Toilet Training Center at Greenwich Hospital

Clinical Services

All About The Toilet is a program at Greenwich Hospital that provides consultation for families with children of all ages – with and without special needs – who have toilet training issues. Evaluation and treatment are done by Fredric Daum, MD who is board certified in pediatrics and pediatric gastroenterology. Consultation visits are provided in a friendly setting. Monthly seminars are conducted at Greenwich Hospital for parents and caregivers of children and adolescents with toilet training issues. The format involves an interactive discussion of the medical and psychosocial problems experienced by children with and without special needs.
